

H. A. PEDERSEN.

JUDGE PEDERSEN THE MAN WITH THE GOODS

H. A. Pedersen, one of the most prominent figures in the Logan business circles, is conducting a very successful real estate, loan and insurance business in his cozy little office on West First North street. Judge Petersen is a favorite among the younger set, owing to the fact that he served as Juvenile Judge for so many years. He proved himself to be a great friend of the boys when it comes to righteous dealing.

The success of the Judge is evidenced by the great number of friends and clients who are found at his office every day of the year. "We sell the earth and loan money on it," well represents the business conducted by our friend, for he indeed is selling the earth in big chunks, and there is no limit to the money he has to supply to his many clients.

BENCH GROCERY STORE ON SOUTH MAIN STREET

Mrs. Martha H. Bench and daughter Alice, are the managers and proprietors of the Bench store in the Sixth ward which is one of the town's accommodating stores. They have successfully conducted a grocery and dry goods store for the past eight years. A liberal patronage is enjoyed by them from their neighbors and friends who feel it a great convenience to have a store with such a good stock of merchandise, so handy.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends for their kind assistance and floral offerings in the death and burial of our little daughter and granddaughter, Madeline.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Anderson,
Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ramsey.

A. G. PICOT

There are few young men at the age of Alfred G. Picot who have had the responsibility thrust upon them as was thrust upon this young man at the death of his father. How well he has succeeded with the conducting of his business is told by the ever increasing demands for farm loans which are made on him.

Mr. Picot has plenty of money for the man with the security. A first mortgage on a good farm is always acceptable to Mr. Picot. His rates are fair with liberal options. He is also interested in an extensive real estate business as well as conducting an insurance business including both life and fire insurance.

WASHINGTON DISPATCH

Congress passed the Prohibition bill late yesterday afternoon making the United States a prohibition nation. Only 23 members of the house voted against the bill.

AMERICAN STEAM LAUNDRY CONDUCTS MODEL BUSINESS

The American Steam Laundry, now located in its new home on North Main street in the building erected for the Garage and Machine Shop, is just one of Logan's leading business institutions. Policies are carried out in the conduct of this business that makes the American Steam Laundry distinctive.

This firm was the first in the city to adopt the "pay as you go" policy and this one policy alone has done more than any other one thing to make for the institution the success it has attained.

The new home is as near a fire proof building as it is possible to get a building. The structure is of concrete with floors of concrete. The floor space is so arranged as to allow each department of the laundry, a separate and distinct section. There is the collar department, the dry cleaning department, the pressing department, the washing department, the mending and sorting department, and the offices. Manager George Squires is a great believer in having a place for everything and he sees to it that every representative puts everything in its place. At any time one can go through the laundry and will find the place in real apple-pie order.

A payroll of thirty-five is maintained by the laundry. Twenty girls and fifteen men find work at this place at remunerative wages. Not only is this institution strongly supported by the local public, but outside towns over the county and adjoining states, send their laundry work to Logan for cleaning.

Oliver L. Bear, engineer for the National Laundry Association of America, was recently in Logan, and he pronounced this laundry the most unique laundry he had ever visited in the United States. This is saying a great deal, but we believe with Mr. Bear that we boast of one of the best laundries in the whole country.

NEW AUTOMOBILE CONCERN IS COMING TO LOGAN CITY

The Plant Auto Company, with headquarters at Richmond for the last three years has moved to Logan and is now comfortably located in the B. G. Thatcher Building, formerly occupied by the Motor Sales Corporation. H. T. Plant, acting manager of this popular car company is a live wire of the liveliest kind, which accounts for his success while at Richmond. Associated with Mr. Plant, is the well known auto salesman Joseph Golightly, who has helped to make automobiles famous in this section.

This concern has extended their territory and now they have the agency for Cache County, Utah, and Franklin and Bannock Counties, Idaho, which is considered to be one of the best territories in these states.

The line of cars carried by the H. T. Plant Company, is not new by any means in this section, as the Overland is one of the oldest cars in America and the Willys Knight is recognized the world over for the completeness of its motor.

Manager Plant is very optimistic over the outlook for next season and his confidence is evidenced by his persistent efforts. He is a man of many friends, and a call on him will convince you that he is well acquainted with his line. The salesroom in the Thatcher building is the pride of all the Overland workers as they now have on display their 1918 models.

The Logan Republican joins hands with the people of Logan and Cache County in welcoming Mr. Plant and his company to this city.

UNION KNITTING FACTORY IS A VERY FINE PLACE

The Union Knitting Mills building on West Center street is pronounced to be the best and most up-to-date mill of its kind in the state. This mill manufactures high grade knit underwear, sweaters and hosiery. It also has a special department to make up woven goods such as mackinaws, wool shirts, mackinaw pants, and mackinaw shirts. It is modern in every respect for lighting, heating, good ventilation and sanitation. This being the case, it answers the request of the state laws of safe guarding every employee. Thanks to the men who urge and maintain a business of this kind. The Utah compensation inspector says that the Union Knitting Mills stands high among the other factories in the state.

When the mill is running at full capacity it employs eighty people, and keeps forty-three traveling men busy six months of the year. The business conditions this year have been fifty per cent better than it was last year.

Each employee in the Union Knitting Mills is a Red Cross member, also each member supported the Liberty Loan. The amount subscribed by the employees to the Liberty Loan was $4,100. In addition to this amount the factory subscribed $2500. One good mention is that the Union Knitting Mills is the only knitting mill that makes every article they sell.

It takes a big and strong man to manage a plant of this kind, which the Union Mills are fortunate to have in George W. Skidmore. Mr. Skidmore is a booster in all affairs pertaining to the community.

HAYBALL MERC. A FLOURISHING INSTITUTION

H. G. Hayball Mercantile Company on West Center is a name so intimately and so long connected with the business life of Logan City that no person in the city and few in the valley, need be told anything about them.

Years of experience and careful notice of the needs of the people of this section of the country in merchandise keeps Hayballs constantly to the front.

One of the features of this business is the constant selling of staple lines of groceries and dry goods at prices lower than those obtainable elsewhere.

The high cost of living is a thing viewed with alarm by this concern and as a result the people have been able to buy the necessities of life here, at prices within their reach.

Mr. Hayball, the founder of this business, is one of the most prominent citizens of Logan, and a man whose success in life is well exemplified by his flourishing business.

TORGENSEN STUDIO A BUSY PLACE THESE DAYS

One does not need to recommend Torgensen's for quality pictures, because there is no business in Logan better known than the Torgensen Studio. George Torgensen entered this business upwards of fifteen years ago and since his first day in this field, the business has grown constantly.

George, with a wide circle of friends about this section, and with his business like methods applied to the conduct of his business, has kept a string of people coming and going from his studio every working day during the year.

Abe Hansen one of the prominent College ward farmers, was in Logan Saturday on business.

EDWARDS FURNITURE STORE CANNOT BE OUTCLASSED

This firm name is one of the oldest and most familiar on Logan business roster, having been established in the year 1885. It has continued to the present to deal in furnishings for the home. The business grows as the town and valley has grown. In 1901 the present home of this firm was erected, and since that date they have never looked back, being among the leaders in any enterprise designed for the benefit or improvement of the city.

A thorough understanding of the needs of the people of this section and careful attention to the quality of merchandise sold, these people have built a business that today is one of the foremost in the city.

The red arrow seen along the highways of northern Utah and in southern Idaho, all point the way to Edwards Furniture. This is an example of the push and energy manifest in the management of this business.

Anything new in the furniture line is always found here first, and with consummate skill they continue the originators. They are today "furnishing the nest" of a large portion of the people of this section.

THOMAS FAYLE IN CHARGE OF GRIFFIN GARAGE

About one year and a half ago T. A. Fayle came to Logan and took over the automobile end of the Griffin Machine Shop on South Main street. During this time Mr. Fayle has worked up a clientele second to none in this part of the state.

He has made a specialty of starting and lighting systems and has had a chance to show to the public his capabilities along this line. The business has increased about the Griffin Garage until today there is no more busy place in town. Mr. Fayle being compelled to keep extra mechanics about him at all times.

DEPARTMENT STORE WHICH ADDS TO LOGAN'S BEAUTY

The Mose Lewis Department store on north Main street is headquarters for a host of people from the out of town sections. This store under the able management of John W. Barrett has grown, until today you would say that it is full sized. But Mr. Barrett keeps adding to the stock and consequently they have almost outgrown their present quarters.

One year ago these people had in their employ three clerks. Today they have ten employed. All due to the management attending strictly to business.

C. N. JENSEN

To be happy is to know the truth and live it. Truth upon the throne is the triumph of creations. Be not deceived by that which is evil, draped with the semblance of truth, for its harvest is great amongst the souls of men—misery, want and degeneration lie in its path.—President C. N. Jensen, B. Y. College.

HOWELL BROTHERS "LOGAN'S FOREMOST CLOTHIERS"

This clothing company in all probability enjoys as wide a popularity as any of the local clothing stores. This popularity is due to the personnel of this firm and the fact of their having the largest clothing stock in the city.

Luther M. Howell, manager of this clothing house, is one of the most likeable business men on Main street because of his genuine appreciation of the friendship of a wide circle of friends. As the advertising campaign of American industries has grown and become more wide spread, the public has learned to know and appreciate the goods.

Of standard makes, and value, and a big factor in the extensive trade of this firm is the famous and nationally advertised line of Kuppenheimer clothes, and their other lines of furnishings equally high in quality.

As the city has grown so has this business, and through the pleasant reception always accorded customers the dispatch with which they are served, new ones are made every day. This is the reason for their growth, and the end is not yet.
